UNITED STATES SENDS NOTE TO GERMANY

ANTI-GERMAN RIOTS IN LONDON TO-DAY

Cabinet Holding Special Meeting to Deal With the Situation

GERMANS WERE FORCED TO GO INTO HIDING

Those Who Were Caught Were Mauled Severely by the Angry Crowds

London, May 12.—A special meeting of the cabinet has been called as a result of the continued rioting here.

London, May 12.—Anti-German riots in the East End of London were renewed this morning with even greater violence than yesterday. Wherever a German showed himself he was attacked. The police force has been so thinned by drafts sent to the army that it had difficulty in dealing with the angry crowds. Special constables had to be called out.

A number of German establishments were raided and sacked and their contents scattered over the streets. The Germans themselves were forced to go into hiding. The police in some cases were defied by the angry crowds, and some of them were injured during their endeavors to protect the Germans. The furniture and fittings of German houses and stores were hurled through windows to the streets.

When the proprietors were caught they were mauled severely. In some cases their clothes were torn from their backs. One German was thrown into a horse trough with the reminder that his compatriots had been spending their time drowning women and children. He was only saved from drowning by the intervention of the police.

There were several instances of German butchers trying to escape in their carts. They went racing down the streets at a mad gallop, but in most cases they ultimately were run down and their vehicles smashed.

Outbreaks of particular severity occurred to-day in the neighborhood of the East India docks. Sixty or seventy German shops were wrecked. German in the vicinity are unwilling for self-defense and police reinforcements are being rushed to the scene.

A number of Russian Jews were flocked this morning to the police station in the East End and pleaded for protection, explaining that they were mistaken for Germans.

Reports are reaching the police that private houses belonging to wealthy Germans in the fashionable West End are likely to be burned. Troops are in readiness to assist the police if necessary.

Large placards in the windows of almost all business houses and markets bear the words: "No business transacted with Germans."

Lord Charles Bessford and William Joynton Hicks presented separate petitions in the House of Commons to-day asking that the house decree the internment of all made alien enemies of military age and the removal of other alien enemies to places thirty miles or more from the coast. The petitions bore about 500,000 signatures.

AUSTRIAN VESSELS ARE ORDERED HOME

Government of Switzerland is Sending Troops to Southern Border

Genoa, May 12.—The Austrian government has issued an order that all Austrian ships in Italian waters must proceed at once to Trieste or Pola.

Basel, May 12.—The Swiss government is sending more troops to-day to points on the southern frontier, especially to Lugano, because of anti-German demonstrations. It is estimated that 10,000 Germans from Italy are in and near Lugano. Local agitators have marched in procession in front of the Lugano hotels, particularly those occupied by Germans, calling out to them insulting phrases. The Lugano police apparently are finding difficulty in dealing with the crowds.

T. C. NORRIS LEADS NEW GOVERNMENT

WINNIPEG FREE PRESS COMMENTS ON CHANGE

Says That the Inevitable Has Happened; No General Election to Be Held

Winnipeg, May 12.—At 11 o'clock this forenoon, rumor crystallized into fact when the premier of Manitoba, Sir Rodmond Roblin, with the members of his cabinet, waited upon Lieutenant-Governor Sir Douglas Cameron in a body and tendered their resignations. The lieutenant-governor without delay invited the leader of the opposition, T. C. Norris, Liberal member for Lanesdowne, to form an administration. Mr. Norris accepted as promptly, and this afternoon the new cabinet was to be sworn in, probably as follows:

Premier and president of the council, T. C. Norris.

Minister of public works, Thomas H. Johnson.

Attorney-general, A. B. Hudson.

Minister of education, Dr. R. S. Thomson.

Provincial secretary and municipal commissioner, V. Winkler.

Provincial treasurer, Edward Brown.

Minister of agriculture, J. D. McGregor.

In tendering his resignation, Sir Rodmond Roblin issued a long statement in which he declared that the result of the inquiry into the parliamentary buildings contracts had convinced his government that adjustments between the province and the contractor, Thomas Kelly, were necessary, and the government believed such adjustments could be made with more satisfaction to the public by a new government. The government also realized that it was responsible for the acts of its departmental officials. Therefore the government had decided to resign office, and had been influenced also by the fact that the general election last summer indicated that the government had lost a large measure of the public confidence hitherto extended to it.

At the general election last July twenty-eight government members and twenty-one opposition members were returned.

The constitutional practice now would be the holding of another general election. Both parties, however, realize that this would lead to strife and recrimination at a time when the energies of the country are concentrated on supporting the war. Therefore, an expedient has been resorted to, which so far as is known, is unique in the annals of parliamentary self-government.

In brief, sufficient members of the government side, including all the retiring ministers, will resign their seats, and these will be filled by acclamation with supporters of the new government.

These seats will be found for the new ministers who at present are not members of the legislature. The resignations, however, of the seven seats held by late cabinet ministers would not, in the opinion of supporters of the new administration, provide a sufficient working majority and it is possible that three private Conservative members will be asked to resign their seats.

T. C. Norris, the new premier, was born at Brampton, Ontario, fifty-four years ago. He homesteaded at Griswold in 1892; was elected first to the legislature for Lanesdowne in 1896, and was a member of the Greenway government until its defeat in 1899.

Winnipeg, May 12.—The Free Press says:

"The inevitable has happened in Manitoba—the Roblin government has passed from the stage."

"Our democratic system of government works slowly and crudely; it has force from office a government which years ago lost the confidence of the people of Manitoba."

"The Roblin government came to regard itself as entitled, as if by divine right, to office. It entertained towards supporters of the new government the feelings of animosity and enmity whose throne is endangered by revolution, hence the long series of election outrages which have cast a shadow on the reputation of the province."

"No such utter collapse of a government going out of office ever has been known in Canada. It leaves without a shred of dignity or a particle of honor."

"This is a joyous day for the people of Manitoba regardless of their party political affiliations. Almost without exception they rejoice that the reins of power have passed to the clean and capable hands of T. C. Norris."

ROOSEVELT CALLS FOR ACTION AT ONCE

Declares Huns Are Worse Than Most Savage Pirates of Former Times

A NEUTRALITY PILATE WOULD HAVE ADMIRIED

Republic Must Move Immediately or Fail in Its Duty, He Says

New York, May 12.—Theodore Roosevelt will say in an article entitled "Murder on the High Seas," to be published in the June Metropolitan:

The German submarines have established no effective blockade of the British and French coast lines. They have endeavored to prevent access of French, British and neutral ships to Britain which defy every principle of international law as laid down in innumerable existing treaties, including The Hague conventions. Many of these attacks have represented pure piracy, and not a few of them have been accompanied by murder on an extended scale. In the case of the Lusitania the scale was so vast that the murder became wholesale.

A number of American ships have been already torpedoed in similar fashion. In one case the lives lost included those not only of the American captain, but of his wife and little daughter. When the Lusitania sank some twelve hundred non-combatants—men, women and children—were drowned, and more than a hundred of these were Americans.

Centuries have passed since any war vessel of a civilized power has shown such ruthless brutality toward non-combatants, and especially toward women and children. The pirates of the Barbary coast behaved at times in similar fashion, until the civilized world joined in suppressing them; and the pirates who were outcasts from among these civilized nations also, at one time perpetrated similar deeds, until they were sunk or hanged. But none of these old pirates committed murder on as vast a scale as in the case of the Lusitania.

The day after the tragedy the newspapers reported in one column that in Queenstown there lay by the score the bodies of women and children, some of the dead women still clasping the bodies of the little children they held in their arms when death overwhelmed them.

In another column they reported the glories expressed by the Berlin journals at this "great victory of the German naval policy." It was a victory over the defenseless and the unoffending, and its signs and trophies were the bodies of the murdered women and children.

Our treaties with Prussia in 1785, 1799 and 1828, still in force in this regard, provide that if one of the contracting parties should be at war with another power the free intercourse and commerce of the subjects or citizens of the party remaining neutral with the belligerent powers shall not be interrupted. Germany has treated this treaty as she has treated other "scraps of paper."

But the offense goes far deeper than this. The action of the German submarines in the cases cited can be justified only by a plea which would likewise justify the wholesale poisoning of wells in the path of a hostile army or the shipping of infected rags into the cities of a hostile country, a plea which would justify the torture of prisoners and the reduction of captured women to the slavery of concubinage. Those who advance such a plea will accept but one counter plea—strength, the strength and courage of the just man armed.

GERMANS AT LIVERPOOL HAVE BEEN INTERNED

Liverpool, May 12.—All unnaturalized Germans in Liverpool have been interned in consequence of the anti-German rioting here since the sinking of the Lusitania. Naturalized Germans have been advised strongly to seek a similar refuge or to inland towns to live. Many of them elected to be interned.

SAXONIA ARRIVED AT NEW YORK TO-DAY

New York, May 12.—The Cunard liner Saxonia reached this port to-day from Liverpool and reported having sighted the Lusitania at 2.45 a. m. on May 5, two days before she was sunk. Until the Sandy Hook pilot hoisted the Saxonia, her passengers knew nothing of the Lusitania's fate.

HAS DETERMINED POLICY OF THE UNITED STATES

PRESIDENT WILSON

HOLD GREATER PART OF GROUND GAINED

French Secure in New Positions North of Arras, Save at One Point

London, May 12.—The progress of the Allies' offensive in Flanders and Northern France has given rise to the belief here that one of the really momentous phases of the war is in process of solution. Berlin recognizes the importance of the new turn of events. German papers emphasize in large headlines the beginning of the new Anglo-French offensive.

German reinforcements rushed from Lens and Douai thus far apparently have failed to check, except at one point, the dash of troops, which, sweeping northward from Arras have captured important German positions.

The German war office states that progress has been made against the British line east of Ypres, but Sir John French's laconic message asserts that all German efforts to break through have failed. The British field marshal says nothing of the part British troops are taking in the offensive in the direction of Lille.

Paris, May 12.—The French war office this afternoon issued the following statement on the progress of hostilities:

"In the sector to the north of Arras we have maintained our gains excepting in front of Loos, where a night counter attack resulted in taking from us a part of the terrain we captured in the daytime."

"On the rest of the front yesterday there were artillery engagements."

To the Citizens of Victoria

Monday, May 10, 1915.

The undersigned hereby requests all residents of Victoria to remain in their homes or places of business to-night and on subsequent nights until popular excitement has abated. While no further demonstrations are anticipated, the absence of crowds from the streets will greatly facilitate the efforts of the police to prevent disorder, should it appear that any is likely to occur.

A. STEWART,
Mayor.
City Hall, Victoria.

ITALIAN CABINET CONSIDERING OFFER

Austria-Hungary Has Sent Her Last Proposal to Government at Rome

Rome, May 12.—What is considered the last definite proposal of Austria-Hungary concerning the territorial concessions demanded by Italy was received to-day by the Italian government. The cabinet at once went into session to consider the communication.

Rome, May 12.—The two great political bodies in Italy—that in favor of war and that which believes the country should remain neutral to attain its national aspirations—up to the present time have refrained from any direct endeavors to interfere with the deliberations or the conclusions to be reached by the cabinet.

The groups favoring war are the Democrats, the Radicals, the Republicans, the Nationalists, the Reform Socialists and the Moderates. Those on the other side are the Catholics, the Intransigent Socialists, the Conservatives and the supporters of Former Prime Minister Giolitti.

Signor Giolitti, still a firmly convinced that war can be averted even yet by the obtaining from Austria of adequate concessions. On the other hand the Giornale d'Italia, in an article called "Plain Speaking," in unmistakable words, condemns the course followed by Giolitti.

Rome, May 12.—Troops were called out last night to disperse a great crowd of war enthusiasts who paraded the principal streets crying "Down with Austria! Down with Giolitti!" and cheering for Prime Minister Salandra and Minister of Foreign Affairs Sonnino. Most of the persons in the throng apparently felt the greatest animosity toward former Prime Minister Giolitti, who is regarded as the leader of the peace party. An attempt was made to storm the residence of the minister, but it was repulsed.

Demonstrations similar to that in the capital are occurring in the larger towns throughout the country.

San Sebastian, Spain, May 12.—Pope Benedict is greatly depressed by the trend of events in Italy and believes the intervention of that country in the war is only a question of days, according to authentic information received here.

SUGGESTION FROM NOTTINGHAM

Nottingham, Eng., May 12.—At a meeting of business men held here last night to advance recruiting, a resolution was passed calling on the government to issue a compulsory notice to all unmarried men of military age to report at the nearest recruiting office within seven days.

STATES DEMANDS AN ACCOUNTING AND AN END OF SAVAGE ACTS

Note to Germany is Firm in Tone and Intimates That Great Republic is Prepared to Meet Any Eventuality That May Arise From Non-Compliance With Its Terms; President Wilson Receiving Many Telegrams.

Washington, May 12.—The United States government, in a note to Germany to-day, formally demanded of the imperial government a strict accounting for the loss of American lives in the sinking of the Lusitania and the violation of American rights in the war zone. It also asks guarantees that there will be no repetition of such events or practices.

With the plain intimation in it that the United States is prepared to meet any eventuality that may arise from a non-compliance with its demands, the communication expressed in unmistakable and emphatic language, was prepared to be cabled to Berlin by nightfall.

Written by President Wilson and approved unanimously by the cabinet, the note was being examined carefully by Counselor Lansing and the law officers of the government at the state department to-day to make sure that its phraseology covered every point of law involved.

The White House officially announced the fact that the president finally had determined the course of action to be pursued in the following statement issued by Secretary Tumulty after a conference with the president: "The course of the president has been determined. It will be announced just as soon as it is proper to publish the note now in preparation."

This is taken to mean that the American government is observing the usual diplomatic amenities, and will await the receipt of the communication in Berlin before making it public. At first there was some suggestion that the communication would be sent personally by the president to Emperor William, but Mr. Wilson determined that it should be addressed, not to an individual, but to the German government and through it to the German people.

As for reparation, the United States naturally will seek financial reparation, but its protest now is in the name of international law and humanity to obtain a guarantee that such tragedies will not be repeated and the lives of non-combatants sacrificed.

The communication lays stress on the inhumanity of attacks without warning on merchant vessels. It reviews in a general way every case in the war zone in which the rights of American citizens have been transgressed—the sinking of the steamship Falaba with the loss of Leon C. Thresher, an American; the attack by German airmen on the American steamship Cushing; the torpedoing of the American tanker Gulf Light while flying the American flag, and finally the destruction of the Lusitania with the loss of more than a thousand non-combatants, more than one hundred of them Americans.

The note, while firm and pointed, does not abandon tones of friendliness, giving room for a disavowal by Germany of her acts, or an abatement of her practices. This is intimated in the suggestion that the German government and the German people, in the pursuit of their maritime warfare, certainly could not have intended to sacrifice American lives.

Attention is called to the fact that while advertisements of warning appeared in the newspapers, the United States government never was informed officially of such warnings, but irrespective of that, the position is taken that the serving of notice to do an unlawful act neither justifies it nor makes it lawful.

The note calls on Germany for an explanation of her past and future course, and leaves open the steps the United States will take to compel an acquiescence in its position.

Cabinet officers known as the advocates of vigorous steps in foreign affairs, are highly pleased. They say the president's note is the kind of document that fulfills the desire of every American and upholds the dignity and honor of the United States, indicating that the American government is prepared to go to the full length of its ability.

It has been learned that the president framed the note on Sunday night, and that his pacific utterances in his speech at Philadelphia last Monday are not reflected in the firm and unequivocal phrases of the note. It is described as a business-like document, demanding the "strict accountability" which the United States in its former note to Germany said it would demand. It is said that it not only asks for a termination of the unlawful methods of submarine warfare on merchant ships, but reparation in full to the families of the victims of the Lusitania tragedy.

Everywhere in official quarters to-day as details of the president's plan of action became known there was talk of firmness and a stiffening of the attitude of the United States government toward Germany.

As day advanced and knowledge of the vigorous course the government was preparing to pursue became widespread, officials began to spread more light on their plans. They indicated that the situation would grow only as serious as Germany chose to make it, and that the United States would stand calmly on its legal rights, taking successive steps to bring the imperial German government to an understanding of the honest purpose of the United States for an abatement of the submarine warfare on non-combatants and reparation for offenses already committed. One subsequent step being discussed to-day was that of conversations with other neutral governments to determine what steps they intend to take to protect their neutrality rights. While the United States traditionally has been opposed to joint action it often has acted identically with other governments.

President Wilson, however, is not convinced that the policy which the United States has adopted need necessarily lead to hostilities. Even a severance of diplomatic relations does not carry with it such an obligation. The sending of warship convoys with American steamships has been talked of among officials, as well as other protective measures, but the American government, according to well informed persons, proposes to fix the responsibility on Germany for any hostile act.

One phase of the present crisis which the president is turning over in his mind is the necessity for stopping propaganda calculated to influence Americans of foreign birth. The president is known to feel that the utterances of Dr. Dernberg, former German colonial secretary, who has no diplomatic status, are of a nature seriously affecting the domestic welfare of the United States in the present delicate situation. From well informed sources it was learned that a cessation of Dr. Dernberg's activities may soon be demanded.

President Wilson spent this forenoon in his study, writing on his typewriter, but shortly after noon kept two engagements made previously.

Despite the tenacity of the international situation, the White House presented outwardly an air of calm. Telegrams from all sections of the country continue to pour in. They practically express the sentiment that the country will stand behind the president in any course of action he determines upon.

London, May 12.—Interest is unabated in developments at Washington, and dispatches from the United States are read eagerly in the hope of obtaining a clue to the probable action of President Wilson.

The Globe says: "If the United States is too proud to fight, let us at least be thankful for King Albert's shocking loss of dignity."

WASHINGTON TO BERLIN.

Notwithstanding the pacific nature
of President Wilson's speech to an audience of naturalized Americans on Monday night, the note to Germany,
which will be dispatched to-day, is couched in firm and pointed terms. It demands an accounting for the series of violations of American rights that have marked Germany's submarine
campaign and a guarantee that there will be no continuation of them. The particular outrages specified are the loss of an American passenger on the Falaba, the attack by Zeppelins on an American oil tanker off the coast of Holland, the sinking of the Gulfight
and the death of three of her company, and the destruction of more than a hundred American passengers on the Lusitania.

The tenor of the note, as outlined in the press reports, furnishes no basis
for a protracted discussion between the two governments on the legal aspects of the case. Indeed, it indicates the Washington view that Germany
has placed herself beyond all law and that there is no room for argument.
The promptness with which the note
was prepared shows, too, that the cabinet realizes that the American people
at last are fully roused and will be satisfied with nothing but an immediate reckoning.

Germany's reply to the note will be awaited with the world-wide interest.
Berlin already has offered to make financial reparation for the loss of life
and property, "where necessary," and
to refrain from interfering with neutral shipping in the war zone "as far as possible," but Washington's warning of February last, applied to neutral or belligerent ships. In other words, to give the guarantee demanded in the note Germany must refrain from sinking passenger ships
without first permitting the passengers
to disembark, while no American vessel suspected of carrying contraband
must be sunk unless a search dis-closes that the character of her cargo makes her liable to destruction. We doubt if Germany will give that guarantee. Certainly the unofficial press
will oppose it in ferocious terms.
Somebody will compose another hymn
of hate, directed at the United States,
and the most provocative language
may be anticipated from Count Reventlow and the pan-Germanic clacquers headed by the Cologne Gazette.

If Germany refuses to furnish the guarantee demanded by Washington,
what then? Diplomatic relations probably will be severed, but this condition
not always means actual conflict. Washington severed diplomatic intercourse with Mexico and even undertook a naval and military operation, but there was no war in the strict sense. This,
however, is a horse of a different color.
If Gerhardt left Berlin and von Bernstorff departed from Washington, it would be a sign of the present temper
of the American people, more menacing
because it is slow to be aroused, war
did not follow.

As far as the immediate military
situation is concerned, the intervention of the United States would be of greater value to the allies in a moral sense than in point of material benefit.
It would stiffen the resolution of wavering neutrals in Europe and cut off
Germany's main source of supplies now
obtained through Holland, Scandinavia and Italy. On the other hand, for a time it would shut off a very considerable base of war munitions now
open to the allies, although the increased production in Great Britain and Russia in recent months makes this need less pressing than it has been.

MISTAKEN.

The conclusion of Alderman Sargent
that the recent disturbance actually originated eighteen months ago in the attitude of the city council towards the enforcement of the Lord's Day Act is decidedly novel, to say the least. Our recollection of the course of the municipal board was that it declined to record itself in favor of an arrangement which would have enabled certain special interests to break the law
with impunity while others caught doing the same were to be punished. It is difficult for us to appreciate a theory of law administration incompatible with justice. Deliberate, calculated injustice is a greater crime
than even the violation of the Lord's Day Act. Had the Victoria city council or the police commissioners endorsed the attitude of the Attorney-General in regard to Sunday observance, involving the rank and discipline in favor of influential institutions, the grossest injustice to humbler elements and the prostitution of the spirit of the law by the establishment of a monopoly on the Sabbath,
they would have been deserving of the sternest censure. Alderman Sargent is quite mistaken as to the origin of the disorders a few evenings ago.

THE DAY OF RUMOR.

War-time is the great opportunity of the rumor monger. Some day we will print a partial list of the fantastic reports, local, national and international,
that have found currency during the last nine months, and the public will be aghast at its own credulity. Many of them started as hoaxes and finally in wildly distorted forms obtained serious acceptance. This is not the experience of Victoria alone but of the entire world. In the United Kingdom the Russian expeditionary force hoax probably is the prize winner to date. An army of a quarter of a million Cossacks
was declared to have passed through Great Britain to France and Belgium.
People vowed they had seen these soldiers stretching their limbs at the various stations on the journey. The strangers all had whiskers and rolled their eyes savagely. Even the Germans believed the story, and von Kluck
was embarrassed in his plunging march towards Paris by the necessity of looking back over his shoulder to see if this phantom army was about to attack
him in the rear. As a matter of fact,
the only Russians who passed through Great Britain were a few officers who attached themselves as observers to the headquarters staff of the allied armies
on the continent.

Equally baseless were nine-tenths of the other reports. Princes of the blood were said to have been incarcerated in the Tower. Great naval battles, in which thirty or forty ships were sunk,
were fought daily. The German Crown Prince was assassinated half a dozen times, although there were only a few who actually had seen him buried. In Victoria people knew that the Good Hope and Monmouth had not been sunk, because some veracious individuals had seen one of them in Esquimaux harbor the day following the evening
on which the battle was reported to have taken place. Three times was the Leipzig captured by the Rainbow and Newcastle, and once His Majesty's ships were towing the defeated German cruiser to Esquimaux harbor with its steer shot off. Prince Rupert enjoyed the distinction of being bombarded
twice. So it went, and the fiction factory shows no signs of exhaustion.
Curiously enough, the people who accept as gospel truth the most ridiculous gossip are the first to disbelieve
accounts confirmed by official sources
or stories that obviously are true.

ACCORDING TO CLAUSEWITZ.

One of the canons of Clausewitz,
whose text-book on war is the principle mental pabulum of every chesty
young Prussian officer, related to the advantages of circulating false intelligence about the enemy. A skillfully organized press agency for influencing home sentiment, the neutral world, as well as the people of opposing nations,
is regarded as an auxiliary arm of great importance. But to be effective in its broadest sense such an organization
should be ably conducted. Its lies should bear the appearance of truth
and should not be overdone.

Unfortunately for this arm of the German service, it is conducted by Germans, which means that those in charge of it are incapable of appreciating the viewpoint of other peoples.
They have deceived their own constituents so easily that they imagine
they can fool the public of other countries. They have got into the habit of regarding the rest of the world as a mass of stupid Germans.

An amusing example of the way in which German bulletin editors have over themselves has recently developed. Berlin gravely informed the world that two units of the British navy engaged one another in battle by mistake
off Norway recently, in which the Lion
and several other ships were sunk.
Now it happens that Berlin officially

stated and reiterated several times
that the same Lion was sunk in the battle two months ago in which the Blucher was destroyed. We may take it for granted that the German people
will ask no embarrassing questions.
They would believe as gospel an official statement which sank the same
vessel every day in the week.

There can be no doubt that there is
first-class co-ordination between the publicity-bureau of the German government and the operations of the German army. But the same condition
does not prevail in regard to the relations between the army and navy. The German navy as a co-operative agency
in the country's campaign against its foes does not exist. It has not been of the slightest assistance to the army.
It has made no attempt to interrupt
the transport by the allies of millions of soldiers and tons of supplies across the seas. It remains skulking in home waters while the enemy ships are crushing their way to the capital of its devoted ally, Turkey. Germany would have been just as effective at sea as she is now if she did not have a solitary dreadnought. And the same Clausewitz who advocated the cooperation of publicity organizations
with military operations also empha-

DOWNFALL OF ROBLIN.

The crisis in the political affairs of Manitoba has been partly eclipsed by the absorbing character of the war
news of the past few days. If the attention of the people of Canada were not directed almost exclusively to the events in Europe, the extremity of the Roblin government and the circumstances which have brought it about
would prove the sensation of the day
in this country. As our readers doubtless are aware, a commission of judges was appointed, on the demand of the Lieutenant-Governor of the province,
to inquire into charges made by the opposition concerning wrongdoing in connection with the erection of the provincial parliament buildings. It is alleged that there has been a misappropriation of a large sum of money,
approximating eight hundred thousand dollars, as a result of manipulation of accounts, in the construction of the foundations of the building. During the late session of the legislature an inquiry by the public accounts committee established a prima facie case,
and the Lieut.-Governor, against the advice of his ministers, thought there should be a fuller investigation into the matter. He refused the government prorogation until it promised a commission of ample powers to probe deeper into the facts. The government was forced to agree, but attempted to foist a partisan commission upon the Lieut.-Governor, who again put his foot down and insisted upon a commission which could be relied upon to render a finding in harmony with the evidence of witnesses. The Premier was forced to accede to this demand,
and a commission of judges was appointed. From the first day of the sittings of this commission the lawyers
for the government, one of whom is
Mr. Phippen, magistrate and legal adviser of the C. N. R., have endeavored by every legal quibble in their power to delay proceedings. Important witnesses have fled to the United States,
and finally Mr. Phippen made an application for an injunction to restrain the commissioners from hearing evidence. This course of action, which in itself was sufficient to condemn the government of Sir Rodmond Roblin,
was taken for a two-fold purpose: to stave off the inevitable doom of the administration and to enable Hon.
"Bob" Rogers to "pull off" a Dominion election with the Roblin government in control of the political machine of Manitoba. Now, although the royal commission only had begun to take
evidence, such a case has been established that the Roblin government has gone down in dishonor. But the fact to be remembered is that the Roblin government was a creature
of Hon. "Bob" Rogers, the man who was chiefly responsible for the scandals in connection with the militia department of the Ottawa government. The effects of the revelations in Manitoba will be far-reaching.
If Sir Robert Borden does not remove from his administration the stigma of Rogers, he too will suffer the consequences. The political "machine" of British Columbia is a faithful and true
model of the "machine" established by Rogers in the prairie province, and the political conditions here to-day closely approximate those in Manitoba.

CAPTAIN R. V. HARVEY WOUNDED AND PRISONER

Local Officer Not Killed as Officially Reported; Joy at University School

The welcome news has been received that Captain R. V. Harvey, of the 7th Battalion, officially reported killed in action on May 1, is not dead, but is wounded and a prisoner in the hands of the Germans.

These tidings were conveyed in a cable received this morning by J. C.
Barnacle, head-master of the University School, of which institution Mr.
Harvey is warden. The cable had been sent from Liverpool by Captain Harvey's brother, after he had received a message from Germany.

Great joy was manifested at the school to-day when the news was made known, for during his long connection with the Mount Tolmie institution, Mr.

CAPTAIN R. V. HARVEY.

Harvey had made himself extremely popular among boys and masters alike
for his unselfish devotion to their interests. Also among the "old boys" the good news was received with sincere pleasure, for he took the keenest interest in the careers of all the students who had passed from his charge.

When the Boy Scouts movement was inaugurated he became one of the most enthusiastic supporters, and the school corps and other similar bodies were assisted by him in every possible way.
He was the organizer and sponsor, too,
of the Cadet Corps of the University
School, and its present marked efficiency is almost entirely due to his unremitting care and labor. He worked hard to improve the shooting amongst
the boys, with the result that the school has now one of the best records for marksmanship in the whole Dominion.
In connection with this it is interesting to note that Captain Harvey
made a personal gift to the school of a covered miniature rifle-range.

Another duty which he undertook in connection with the school was the conducting of the annual "White" official magazine.

Captain Harvey was formerly a member of the 8th Regiment, taking out his commission when the regiment was formed, and passing all his examinations with the highest honors. He went through the trouble in the Island
coal-mining troubles, and was later
wards one of the first to volunteer for the front.

Captain Harvey was born at Londonerry, Ireland, in 1872, and received his early education at Liverpool college.
Later he went to Magdalene, Cambridge, where he graduated at M. A.
His many friends in the city and throughout the province will wish for him speedy recovery from his injuries.

COMMISSIONER REPORTS

Herbert Cuthbert Meets Executive of
V. & I. D. A.; Visit of Chinese Commission.

A very comprehensive report was made to the executive of the Victoria and Island Development association
yesterday afternoon by Commissioner
Cuthbert on his trip to San Francisco.
The commissioner detailed what he had done while in the south in the direction of providing for the proper advertising of this city among the people who visit the fair, among intending tourists in the east to induce them to travel by this route one way.

In the course of his report Mr. Cuthbert referred to the fact that a commission of forty Chinese merchants is on a tour of the United States with a view to encouraging trade between the two countries, and he suggested that an effort should be made to have it visit this country. With the enormous possibilities for trade between Canada
and China and the transportation facilities which exist, he thought that the necessity for this Dominion keeping abreast of the republic to the south
in the expansion of this trade would be apparent to all. Mr. Cuthbert said he had sent a wire to the minister of trade and commerce at Ottawa urging that an invitation be sent to the members of this commission.

The executive endorsed what the commissioner had done and instructed him further to bring the matter to the attention of the board of trade, and take any other steps towards the securing of a visit from the commission
that he thought of.

It was arranged that the prizes won
by public schools pupils in the essay competition held under the auspices of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Manufacturers association should be presented next week. Mayor Stewart will be asked to make the presentations, and the school board will be asked for the use of the high school assembly room.

The commissioner having given a rush order in San Francisco for ten thousand cards advertising the beauties
of the route between the Sound and
B. C. either his action was approved.
Another meeting of the executive
will be held next week to consider the election of officers and sub-commissioners.

lish deed which may follow. The destruction of cities like Louvain and Dinant, the scientific vivisection of Belgium as a warning to other nations, the hideous wrongdoings to civilians, men, women and children, in Belgium and Northern France, in order thereby to terrorize the civilian population—all these deeds, and those like them, done on the land, have been paralleled now by what has happened
in the sea.

In the teeth of these things, we earn
as a nation measureless scorn and contempt if we follow the lead of those who exalt peace about righteousness,
if we heed the voices of those feeble folk who bend to high heaven that there is peace when there is no peace.

We have urged as a justification for failing to do our duty in Mexico that
to do so would benefit "American dol-

advance the supreme interest of
"American dollars" as a justification
for continuance in the refusal to do
the duty imposed on us in connection

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, May 12, 1890.

The largest lot of bricks ever burned at one time in British Columbia are now being fired in the yards near Victoria. Elford & Smith have 400,000, M. Humber 400,000, J. Baker 200,000 in kiln which will soon be ready for the market. The demand for building material promises to be good shortly.

The first consignment of the 200 tons of castiron piping for the water-works has arrived to-day, and is being hauled to Pandora avenue. The pipe, which is the best of the kind, was manufactured at Hamilton, Ont.

Leopold Boscowitz, of San Francisco, is expected to arrive to-night to visit his brother.

About 450 of the male population of the city assembled in the Victoria theatre on Saturday to witness the exhibition of glove-boxing of the Dempsey combination and a few local amateurs.

COPYING "BLACK HAND" IN SENDING WARNINGS

Anonymous Letters Sent Residents Are Headed "Revenge" and Signed "The Mob"

There is an epidemic of anonymous letter-writing in the city at the present time, and many families have received communications written in the old "Black Hand" style, warning them of awful consequences which will follow if certain instructions are not obeyed to the letter. These communications are of one kind and are each headed in heavy black letters:

"REVENGE."

Underneath is set forth in black typewritten letters, (the senders are careful never to let their handwriting appear), what the addressees must do to escape dire and prompt punishment. In most cases the notices advise the recipients to leave the city immediately, or similar consequences will follow to what happened at the Blanshard hotel, the Leiser building, and the New England restaurant during the recent riots.

These letters are invariably signed "THE MOB."

People possessing German names have been the principal recipients, but others who have not even that slight connection with the enemy have also been warned. One family received a letter of this character for the only reason that the daughter, an Englishwoman, some time ago exhibited a sign in the window that she was prepared to teach German music.

Naturally these warnings cause considerable perturbation when received, particularly as the manner in which the senders deliver them is, to say the least, unusual. In some cases the notices have been tied round a small stone with a string and thrown in through an open bedroom window, the messenger remaining unseen, while in other cases the letters have arrived in a most mysterious manner. The police have been bombarded with inquiries as to what to do in the circumstances, and the detective department is working in an endeavor to find out who are the culprits.

The mayor has not been exempt from this annoyance, and has received several letters of a similar kind through the mail.

Many people are inclined to believe that some kind of a secret society has been formed, but it is more than probable that the letters are the work of some misguided humorist, or of some youths who have had a too comprehensive course of reading literature about the Black Hand, the Camorristi, and other societies of a like kind which are featured in modern sensational literature.

W. A. of S. P. C. A. Organizes Local Branch in Aid of Dumb Animals on Battledfield.

The Women's Auxiliary of the S. P. C. A. has decided to start a Victoria branch of the "Blue Cross." This organization, which was founded during the Balkan war, is under the presidency of Lady Smith-Dorrien. Lord Londsdale is president of the A. V. C., for which the "Blue Cross" is solicited help. The local branch of this order will be affiliated with the W. A. of the S. P. C. A., who are soliciting donations in order to help forward the humane work. Through the generous co-operation of D. E. Campbell, permission has been given to place a collection box outside his store on Fort street where the smallest donation may be placed. So many dumb animals are helpless in the great conflict, and it is only fair to take what relief is possible for the alleviation of their sufferings. To all lovers of animals an appeal is made for funds.

Reall Orderlies, the modern laxative, cleanse the system and beautify the complexion. Sold only by D. E. Campbell, the Reall store, 10c, 25c, and 50c boxes.

Y. W. C. A. Board Meets.—The monthly business meeting of the Y. W. C. A. board of directors will be held on Friday next at 2.30 p. m. in the restaurant. All members are requested to attend.

Concert Postponed.—The concert which was to have been held on Monday next, in connection with St. Matthias mission, Fowl Bay, has been postponed to Monday, May 31, when it will be held in the cathedral school-room at 3.30 p. m. An excellent programme is being arranged.

First Baptist Ladies' Aid.—The Ladies' Aid of the First Baptist church held a very successful tea yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. H. King, Chamberlain street. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, red poppies being in the dining-room and pink roses in the drawing-room. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mesdames Dinmore and Russell, and a profitable sale of home-made candles was managed by Mesdames Hendry and Hopper. The function was a financial and social success.

CHURCH ANNIVERSARY.

Special Services at St. Saviour's in Celebration of Twenty-fourth Birthday.

Twenty-four years ago the St. Saviour's church was consecrated in Victoria West. Three years previous to that time the mission had been founded by Rev. W. W. Bolton. So next year the quarter-century mark will be reached. On Sunday next, May 16, special services will be held to celebrate the anniversary, and the preacher for the day will be Rev. H. R. Trumppour, professor of Hebrew at Latimer hall, Vancouver. Holy Communion will be administered at 8 and after the morning service.

On Monday, May 17, a social gathering of the congregation and their friends will take place in the school room at 8 p. m. Some friends have promised a good programme of songs, instrumental selections, and other items. Among the speakers who will congratulate the parish will be Rev. Dr. MacRae, who is well known and loved all over Victoria West.

The church, despite the hard times and the floating nature of the population, is making steady progress. And it is only just to pay a tribute to the fine work of the rector, who is a keen and warm-hearted social worker. To his devoted ministry the parish owes much.

Estimable Resident of Nanaimo Passes Away After Long Illness.

The funeral took place at Newcastle townsite, Nanaimo, this afternoon, of Mrs. Sabra Thomson, wife of George Thomson, government agent at Nanaimo, who died at her home on Sunday morning after a lengthy illness. A memorial service was held in St. Paul's church, Rev. W. E. Cockshutt officiating.

Mrs. Thomson had been ill for four months past, and it had been known for some time that she could not recover. She was a native daughter of Nanaimo and was fifty-six years of age. She had a very wide circle of friends who will deeply mourn her loss and sympathize with the members of the family in their bereavement. She was an active member of the Daughters of the Empire and of the Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's church.

Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, Walter E., assistant postmaster, and Robert G., of the Victoria Times; one brother, Samuel Gough, city clerk, and three sisters, Mrs. A. T. Norris, of Nanaimo; Mrs. A. Roberts, of Victoria, and Mrs. H. Leighton, of Vancouver.

LOCAL HOME STAR FOR TERMINALS

BOSS JOHNSON MAY NOT SIGN UP

Red Donihue Accepts Con-
Jones' Terms; Lalonde and Fitzgerald Still Hanging
Back

Con. Jones figures that he will have at least four easterners on the team when he will lineup against New Westminster in the coast professional lacrosse series opens this month. Jones has already signed up Red Donihue, the Cornwall home star, and he expects to have Billy Fitzgerald and Newsy Lalonde before the week is out. Jones was dickered for Fred Stagg, but the latter will not come west on the percentage basis. Stagg is a grand defence fielder and Jones will probably make another try for this player.

Cotton Brynjolfsson, the Victoria home fielder, will try for a berth with the Terminal twelve. If he cannot make good on the attack he will try for a defence field job. Brynjolfsson is a shifty stick, handier and a tough boy to stop once he gets started, so that he will probably make good with Jones all-star twelve.

Boss Johnson, the well-known Victoria star, is receiving the sympathies of a host of friends in the loss of his mother, who died on Sunday. Johnson is one of the highest types of athletes and will hardly get into pro. game this season. Jones has made him a very attractive offer, but he will not accept at the present.

Toronto, May 12.—"Red" Donihue, who for several years has played home for Toronto, has signed with Vancouver Lacrosse club, and leaves for the west to-day.

FRISK WILL JOIN SEATTLE THIS WEEK

Spokane Outfielder Should Bolster Giants; Other
Changes Rumored

Tealey Raymond, manager of the Seattle ball club, announced this morning that he has signed Emil Frisk, the former Spokane outfielder, and that he expected to have Frisk here to-morrow. Frisk led the league in hitting last season, but this year was benched because Spokane had a much younger outfielder in Williams, a kid who is betting the leather to all corners of the lot. Frisk will add a lot of strength to the Seattle club, and is but one of the several new players who will line up with the Giants this week. A new pitcher is also booked for the Sound City club.

Los Angeles, May 12.—"Hap" Hogan, manager of the Venice Coast league team is seriously ill with pneumonia. Dr. C. W. Cook, his physician, said last night that Hogan was "a very sick man and would not be able to play for quite a while."

Hogan developed a severe cold last night after he had gone in swimming in the surf yesterday.

Chicago, May 12.—Because of a row with umpire "Silk" O'Loughlin in St. Louis Ray Schalk, star catcher of the Chicago American league team, received word yesterday of his indefinite suspension. Schalk kicked O'Loughlin's mask about the field and showed other signs of his displeasure after a decision by the veteran umpire.

Biddy Bishop comes right out in open meeting and says that Becker, the Tacoma second baseman, was caught for failing to observe training rules.

VETOES BOXING BILL

Lansing, Mich., May 12.—A bill to legalize ten-round boxing matches in Michigan was vetoed yesterday by Governor Ferris.

SWIMMING CLUB HAS ELECTED OFFICERS FOR THIS SEASON

Though the Victoria Amateur Swimming club has lost a great many members through their departure with the various contingents for active service in France, this club held its annual meeting last night. Preparations for the coming season include the selection of the B. C. E. baths at the Gorge as the headquarters of the club, together with the election of the following officers: President, D. Balmain; vice-president, C. H. Hopper; secretary, J. W. Stott; P. O. box 579; captain, J. D. McNeill; vice-captain, Archie Muir.

Lou Godfrey, the B. C. sprinting champion, has left for the front with the C. A. M. C. while Jack McNeill is now in training and may leave very shortly for England. Interest will be taken in the junior members of the club this season, and special events will be listed at the weekly club handbooks for the new members.

The following is the summer swimming schedule for boys at the Y. M. C. A.: Monday—4:30 to 5, preparatory boys; 5 to 5:30, high school boys; Tuesday—3:45 to 4:45, university school; 4:45 to 5:15, juniors; 5:15 to 5:30, night boys; Wednesday—4:45 to 5:30, junior swimming club; Thursday—4:30 to 5, preparatory boys; 5 to 5:30, high school; 5:30 to 8:30, night boys; Friday—3:45 to 4:45, university school; 4:45 to 5:15, juniors; Saturday—10 to 11:30, preparatory boys; 11:30 to 12:30, junior boys; 12:30 to 1:30, high school; 1:30 to 5:30, night boys. This schedule holds good till September 15.

CAPABLANCA WINNER

New York, May 12.—Jose R. Capablanca, of Havana, captured the first prize, without the loss of a single game, in the "chess-masters" tournament, Frank Marshall, United States champion, took second prize, likewise without the loss of a game.

BASEBALL PRACTICE

A practice is called for the Y. M. C. A. team in the Midget Baseball league for to-morrow evening at 6:30 on the Heywood avenue ground. The practice will be followed by a cocoa spree and a meeting to elect officers.

The choice of the French in the matter of explosives has been the powerful compound melinite.

LEAF SMASH VICTORIA JINX

M'KENRY STARS AS FENCE BUSTER

Two Seattle Twirlers Driven
From Mound; Tobin Gets
Four Hits; Score 14 to 4

All pitchers looked alike to Victoria's squad of fence busters at the ball park yesterday afternoon, the Leafs winning from Seattle 14 to 4. The game was featured by the terrific clubbing of the home crew, Victoria getting no less than 19 hits, while Joe Tobin broke into the limelight with four clean wallops. Frank McKenry, the best right hander in the Northwestern league to-day, copped a lot of the calcium by his grand pitching in the pinches. The tall slab-artist hammered out three safes blows himself, just to demonstrate that he can also lambast that old horseshide.

Victoria's win gives the Leafs an excellent chance to slip into first position to-day, as they are now tied with Vancouver for second honors. Tacoma being only 21 points in the lead. A loss for the Tigers to-day and a win for the Leafs, will just about put the latter out in front. Victoria played wonderful ball behind McKenry yesterday, and had not the prouder twirler loathed in the sixth inning, he would have held the Giants to a single tally. He pitched a heady game, however, striking out six, while he did not yield a pass.

Raymond sent out Joe Lotz, his big leaguer, against the locals, but the latter started right after the speed phenomenon, driving him from the mound after one runner had been retired. Pat Eastley took his place and while he worked in fine style for a few innings, he was always in trouble, Victoria counting nine hits for seven runs in the lucky seventh. Eastley helped in the run getting as he was guilty of a pair of wild heaves to catch base runners, while Barth also threw one to the bleachers for a run. Seattle did not play like a team possessed of real fighting spirit and the club appears to be in a slump that will take some shaking off.

Three Victoria runs in the first session proved the downfall of Lotz. Kaylor flew out, but passed to Butler and Shaw, Kelly's single and Tobin's double sent a trio of runners across the plate. In the third Shaw's bunt and errors by Eastley and Barth scored another. Victoria bunched four hits in the fourth for three runs. Haworth, McKenry, Butler and Tobin, shoving the tallies across.

The seventh was a fusillade of base-hits and steals. Tobin doubled to start the fun, Nye and Menges getting singles scoring Tobin. Haworth popped out, but McKenry singled sending Nye home. Kaylor hit safely to right putting Menges over. Butler and Shaw connecting for timely blows. Kelly grounded out, scoring Shaw, but Tobin and Nye singled for the second time in the inning. The pair worked a double steal, while Menges walked, filling the bags. Haworth grounded out, the bell ringing seven times, to the immense joy of the fans.

Kelly and Menges' cut off hits by fast fielding. Butler accepting nine chances at short. Tobin starred with a nice peg from left field to catch a runner at third, the whole Victoria team working at top speed. The game was finished in an hour and three-quarters, splendid time considering the amount of hitting that was indulged in.

KELLAR SAYS THAT SEATTLE BOXERS WON THREE TITLES

Charlie Kellar, a Victoria boy who witnessed the A. A. U. boxing bouts at San Francisco last week, states that the Seattle entries were robbed of at least two championships. Kellar says that Wyard and Baird should have won their classes, but California judges could not bear to see their boys go down to defeat, and decided against them. Henry Gleason had to beat his man to a pulp to gain the decision, while Val Sontag lost by a shade. It is likely that the P. N. A. will take some action with regard to the treatment of the Northwest athletes in the south. At the Far West championships, the Seattle and Portland entries were discriminated against, and to have the boys again handed a raw deal in the national title events proves that there is something in the Native Son decisions of the San Francisco judges.

FAMOUS TENNIS STAR'S HEROIC DEATH; "TONY" WILDING GIVES LIFE FOR EMPIRE

The news of the death of Tony Wilding, world's champion tennis player and the man that helped to wrest the Davis cup from the United States last year, caused a feeling of gloom amongst the devotees of the game here to-day. A Times reporter interviewed B. P. Schwengers, the British Columbia champion and past Canadian champion, and found him greatly depressed at the news of the loss of his friend. During the several occasions in which "Bernie" has met Wilding, when playing for Canada in the international matches, a close friendship had sprung up between the two men.

Mr. Schwengers said: "Yes, Lieut. Powell and myself knew Wilding very well personally. There were few men I esteemed so highly. He seemed so typical of all that is best of the British citizen, physically perfect, temperate of mind and lofty in his ideals. I know that if Wilding had a choice as to how to end his days it would have been to give it for the empire."

"When we see a man of his calibre, with everything to live for, perfect health, wealth, a popular hero, a great social favorite, giving his all willing for our country, it makes those of us who are living at home feel not a little ashamed that circumstances prevent us from emulating him and assisting in the defence of the empire."

"Wilding was a man to whom the word fear was non-existent. He had the most overwhelming confidence in himself and in his chosen life of athletics. The idea of defeat never occurred to him. Not possessed of a natural gift for lawn tennis, such as the Dohertys, Larned and Brooks had, he nevertheless, through sheer British doggedness and determination, developed a game so sound both in defence and attack, that he won the highest honors the game had to give him, successfully defending his title until last year.

"On the occasions on which I have met him in match play I always found him a most sporting opponent, giving away nothing, but absolutely refusing to accept a decision in his favor to which he did not consider he was entitled."

"I think Wilding's death will be a great blow to international lawn tennis. It will hardly seem like an international competition without this splendid fellow playing. Can one conceive of English, Canadian or Australian players competing against Germans, when they think of poor "Tony" Wilding, not to mention thousands more? I cannot, and I hope I shall never be asked to do so."

New York, May 12.—Anthony F. Wilding, the New Zealand lawn tennis champion, killed in the allied attack on the Dardanelles, played his last matches in this city before he went home to join the troops sent by New Zealand to aid the mother country.

With Norman E. Brooks, he made up the Australian team which last year carried the Davis international cup back from the United States to the Antipodes. At the time of his death he was a second lieutenant in the royal marines.

A REAL CLOUTER

JOE TOBIN

Victoria's speedy leftfielder, who had three doubles and a single in yesterday's combat. Tobin is commencing to hit in the form that made him the sensation of the Coast league last season.

SEATTLE CLUB IS NOW UNDER LIMIT

Pinky Grindle Decides to Quit
Baseball; Nye Showing
Speed

Seattle is only carrying thirteen players right now, the release of Bobby James having cut down the Giants below the league limit. The Seattle management is looking for another pitcher, and they will probably make a change in their infield before long. Barth may be an excellent catcher, but he did not look very good at third yesterday. He did not cover any ground, while his one wild peg to first was a costly one. He is a catcher, and by all accounts a pipkin, so that Dugdale will retain him no matter what happens.

McKenry's win yesterday brings to mind the fact that this twirler has not yet lost a game that he has started. He is booked with one defeat in which he relieved a twirler. "Big Mac" is easily the finest right-hander in the league, right now, and looks like a sure sale to the big leagues. His hitting has picked up something wonderful and before long Marty Nye will be calling upon this stalwart slab artist to step up and bang 'em out when hits are needed.

The Victoria pilot put over something unusual in the seventh inning yesterday. He hit safely twice and also stole on each occasion, a feat that is not very often pulled off in any league. Nye is hitting twice as good this year as he did last season, while he is showing more speed on the base paths. His pepper is infecting the whole team and carrying the club along at top speed all the time.

Pinky Grindle has declined the Tacoma offer and will remain in Victoria. The Two Jacks offered him a position at a good salary, and as Pinky likes this burg he will bring his wife up from California and make his home in this city. Grindle is one of the best blood players that ever wore a Victoria uniform and if good wishes were base hits Pinky would clout .1000 in the majors.

"Yes," said Willy: "If the lamb had been good and sensible, we should have had him to eat!"

CHINESE WOMAN MAY ESCAPE HER HUSBAND

Chief of Police Here Has Cabled Shanghai to Have Mrs. Sing Sent Back

There is every probability that Mrs. Wong Kung Sing, who is alleged to have been kidnapped by her husband on April 15, will be brought back to Victoria and escape the terrible punishment which her husband had sworn he would inflict upon her as soon as they landed in China. Yesterday afternoon, at the expense of the girl's father, Coon Ling, Chief of Police Langley forwarded a cablegram to the superintendent of police at Shanghai, asking him to interview the woman and if she was desirous of leaving her husband, to return her to Victoria immediately.

The city still refuses to take any action in the matter, and Coon Ling has failed to collect $400, as a result of which Wong Kung Sing will probably succeed in escaping. A warrant has been sworn out in this city for his arrest, and he will never be able to enter this country again without being taken into custody.

Case Aroused Interest. Much interest has been aroused in this city in behalf of the Chinese woman following the publication of the story by the Times of the cruel manner in which she was torn away by her husband and his accomplice. The circumstances under which the woman was rushed out of this town were very suspicious, and the fact that she was born in Canada and therefore entitled to protection by the laws of this country, makes it appear that an injustice was done.

The schedule of the Nippon line calls for the Shidzuka Maru to arrive at Shanghai to-morrow, and she will remain there one day. The superintendent of police will at once board the ship and interview the young woman. He has been partially informed of the circumstances of the case. It is likely that, if the husband finds out the intention of the police office, he will offer strong objections to the removal of his wife. Once the woman finds that she has a friend she will no doubt appeal to him to take her away and return her to her father. Coon Ling has secured enough money to buy a return ticket for his daughter, and the amount will be called to Shanghai if the officers succeed in his mission.

No Reply From Ottawa. No reply has been received from the minister of justice to the two telegrams which were forwarded last week by local bodies interested in the case, asking that some steps be taken to have the woman brought back.

While it is quite likely that the woman will be returned, the Chinaman will still be in jail, and as he is reported to have transgressed the laws of Canada, people think that he should be sought.

Great credit is due to the local bodies who took up the young woman's case, and although refused assistance from the city, they succeeded in arousing sufficient public sentiment in their favor to demand that the police do something.

The members were wasted by hunger, their hands and feet frozen, and they were found for water, and found the Japanese

MEET CRUEL DEATH BUT ARE REAL HEROES

Engineers and Stokers Are Seldom Mentioned When Great Liners Are Lost

Whenever a great sea tragedy occurs the survivors always relate how bravely the captain and deck officers acted as the ship was sinking to her doom. But it is seldom that anyone ever sings the praise of the men down below, the engineers and stokers, who, in remaining at their stations, are usually drowned like rats in a trap. It is one of the peculiar ironies of fate that the navigator should be able to go to his death in a spectacular manner, while the engineer meets what appears to be an ignominious end.

Following the sinking of the Titanic, the Empress of Ireland and the Lusitania, the press carried lengthy stories from survivors. The three masters stood on the bridge of their respective ships until the waters closed above them and the deck officers walked calmly among the passengers quieting them and getting the boats away. The veteran White Star commander, Capt. Smith, perished with the Titanic. Capt. Kendall, of the Ireland, and Capt. Turner, of the Lusitania, however, were picked up after having been washed off the bridge.

The Real Heroes. When the list of survivors of a sea catastrophe arrive there are very few names of the engineering staff mentioned. The engineer and his men considered their duty to remain below until there is no hope of saving the ship, and they usually entertain little hope so long that there is no possible chance for their escape. In the three great disasters of the past four years the engineers and stokers have stood with their hands on the machinery or with shovels in their grasps, watching the water creep up around them, first to their ankles, then to their knees, then to their waists, then to their armpits. At this juncture many try to find their way to the deck, but they are usually too late. An explosion below, through the action of the water on the boilers, sometimes snuffs out the lives of many of the heroes who work in the bowels of the ship.

In the case of the Lusitania the engineering staff had little chance whatever to escape death. The explosion of the torpedo, followed by the upheaval of the ammunition, must have killed many a brave man before the water reached the interior of the ship. In time of war the artificer engineers on the fighting machines occupy the most hazardous position possible for any man. They are battered down below and they cannot even catch a glimpse of any action they are in.

"There's not to reason why. Their's but to do and die."

BOERIC FINALLY SIGNS CREW FOR TRIP TO U. K.

Port Townsend, May 12.—The British steamer Boeric, which completed loading lumber at Bellingham, more than ten days ago, came here last night to sign on a crew before the British vice-consul and also to clear for England.

The Chinese crew of the Boeric departed while she was loading at Port Angeles, where they learned the vessel was bound for England and would have to pass through the zone blockaded by the Germans.

The twenty-three sailors to fill the places of the Chinese arrived here yesterday from up the Sound. It is said that each man was paid a handsome bonus to induce him to brave the dangers of submarine and mines.

PRINCE GEORGE TOOK PART OF PRISON SHIP

Brought 152 Austrians and Two Germans From Rupert; One German Escapes

One hundred and fifty-two Austrians and two Germans who were rounded up at Prince George, were brought south on the G. T. P. steamer Prince George, Capt. Donald, which berthed here this morning from Prince Rupert. The contingent of prisoners was shuffled ashore at Vancouver last night into a waiting train, and they will be interned at Vernon, the new concentration camp for aliens.

Capt. Donald says that the prisoners gave no trouble on the voyage, and passed most of the time humming the tune of "It's a Long Way to Tipperary." There was one mouth-organ amongst the crowd and they had some merry song-services. Eight special constables accompanied the gang of prisoners.

One German Escaped. While being brought from Prince George to Rupert by rail one German, who had $400 in his possession, jumped from the moving train and made good his escape. It is most likely that he will once again fall within the arm of the law as the northern country is being scoured for men from hostile countries. The Austrians showed no signs of discontent, and the Germans were closely watched by the officers.

Very shortly another batch of prisoners will be brought from Prince George and other northern points for internment at Vernon. As a result of the huge amount of railroad construction which has been carried out in the north, there are many aliens there and prompt steps are being taken to round them up.

The Prince George has just completed her first round-trip in the semi-weekly service, and Capt. Donald said that the weather was very fine. Among the passengers who came south on the George were: John Greenwood, president of the Haysport Fishing Company; Robert Jamieson, who is building the new hotel at Skeena River Crossing, and W. Sturte, of Seattle, a general contractor who has been north on a business trip.

The Prince George proceeded this morning to Seattle and will sail out of here to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock for Prince Rupert.

REAL ESTATE BARGAINS

Port Townsend, May 12.—Completing a tow of 1,104 miles, the tug Gollah returned yesterday from Alaska, where she took the barge Fresno. The Gollah experienced stormy weather northward bound, but fine weather prevailed returning.

Frank Plummer, former cashier of the Merchants' bank, of this city, made the trip on the Gollah. He reports Seward as being unusually quiet as a result of railroad activities at Ship Creek.

Seward is rapidly being deserted and business houses and town lots are offered for sale at remarkably low figures.

BELIEVES WAR CARGO IS GOING TO GERMANS

Cargo of Rifles and Ammunitions Which Left San Diego Bound for Africa

San Diego, Cal., May 12.—Persistent reports are in circulation here to-day to the effect that the cargo of four thousand modern rifles and four million rounds of ammunition shipped from San Diego on the steam schooner Annie Larsen now is well on its way to German East Africa and may have been landed safely by this time.

The Annie Larsen, cleared from San Diego March 8 and arrived recently at Acapulco without her cargo. Information from the west coast of Mexico received here to-day is that the Larsen transhipped the cargo to a tramp steamer within a week or so after leaving here and that the steamer by this time has landed it in German East Africa.

CROWN OF NAVARRE AVOIDS THREE GERMAN FIGHTERS

Three German submarines gave chase to the steamer Crown of Navarre, a freighter of the Harrison D. Vares, as she slipped away from England in February laden with merchandise for the Pacific coast and Puget Sound, but each time the vessel was favored by good fortune and escaped without even enticing a torpedo in her direction. The Crown of Navarre is due in Victoria to-morrow.

Capt. Baird, narrating his adventure in San Francisco, says the first encounter with the submarine was on leaving the Thames from London. The periscope of a submarine, leaving a thin streak of foam on the smooth surface, was sighted before the Crown of Navarre was out of sight of land. British destroyers and cruisers were hovering close at hand, however, and set in hot pursuit of the underwater boat which disappeared beneath the surface.

Outside the harbor another submarine was sighted, but the sun had gone down, and in the semi-darkness the Crown of Navarre was able to escape for the second time.

Outside the harbor of La Palme, France, Capt. Baird before the German submarine commanders have craftily changed the numbers of their boats, making it appear there are several of them lurking in some particular vicinity, instead of merely the one.

The Crown of Navarre brought numerous exhibits to the Panama-Pacific exposition, and will discharge a large quantity of freight on the Sound. She will load wheat from the Columbia river for South America. Balfour Guthrie & Co. now hold her in charter.

IXION DELAYED ANOTHER DAY SAILING OUTWARDS

The Blue Funnel liner Ixion, Capt. Strout, did not succeed in getting away to-day. She suffered a further delay at Seattle owing to the late arrival of the mail. She is now posted to sail from Victoria at noon to-morrow.

The Talthybius, Capt. Cullum, of the same fleet, will return from the Sound here to-morrow morning at daybreak to discharge 500 tons of cargo.

REAL ESTATE BARGAINS

Port Townsend, May 12.—Completing a tow of 1,104 miles, the tug Gollah returned yesterday from Alaska, where she took the barge Fresno. The Gollah experienced stormy weather northward bound, but fine weather prevailed returning.

Frank Plummer, former cashier of the Merchants' bank, of this city, made the trip on the Gollah. He reports Seward as being unusually quiet as a result of railroad activities at Ship Creek.

Seward is rapidly being deserted and business houses and town lots are offered for sale at remarkably low figures.

CAN CHASE PIGS ONLY AS FOR AS THE FENCE

Little Dog Bit Small Pigs on Their Own Ground; Canine's Owner Pays

It was no boast for the back-to-the-land campaign when Walter Dallimore's pigs got under the division fence and rootled up quantities of wheat, oats and vegetables, on the ranch of Hugh Stewart at Langford, and George Morphy representing Mr. Stewart in the county court this morning argued strongly that the law should be that a dog could chase the pigs off. If this were not recognized it would add, he stated, to the hardships the small farmer already has to contend with.

Judge Lampman, after hearing evidence and both lawyers, held that the dog was right in chasing out the pigs, but only as far as the division fence, and if there were untoward circumstances after passing the fence then the owner of the dog would be liable. In the case in point eight pigs died from the bite.

Hugh Stewart and Walter Dallimore have ranches in the Langford district, and Mr. Dallimore had nine pigs which according to the evidence were wanderers and frequently made trips into Mr. Stewart's domain. Judge Lampman said Mr. Stewart's patch of green probably was the most attractive in the district, and this no doubt accounted for the frequency with which the pigs went there.

On the other hand Mr. Stewart kept a dog which he described as "only a little dog" and later in his evidence estimated the aggressive canine weighed twenty pounds. Against this Mr. Dallimore declared his pigs were only little pigs, and Mr. Stewart admitted this, contending it in his favor, because it further excused the chasing by the little dog, as he said, no one could catch a little pig.

Frequent visits by the pigs, it was stated, resulted in the total destruction of Mr. Stewart's green stuff and the spoliation of his wheat and oats. The plaintiff admitted this, and paid $5 into court, estimating this amount to be the total damage done in the satisfaction of his pigs' appetites. The defendant, Mr. Stewart, being sued for the killing of the pigs, made a counter claim for loss to the garden. The defendant's wife informed Mr. Foulkes, who appeared for the plaintiff, that the fence round the place was a pole fence of three bars. When her husband gave evidence he said there were five bars and Mr. Foulkes used the discrepancy to discredit Mrs. Stewart's evidence, whereupon the husband informed the court that a woman does not know about fences.

The defendant further said he did not believe his dog had bitten the pigs, and to prove it he had offered the plaintiff the chance to put his remaining pig in a pen with the dog. He had offered to set his dog on the imprisoned pig, and if the dog bit the pig then he would assume the damage to the other pigs was done by the dog. The plaintiff had not accepted the offer.

The plaintiff complained that eight of his nine pigs had been bitten by Mr. Stewart's dog, and had died as a result. His honor valued them at $7 each and gave judgment for $56 to the plaintiff. He held that the defendant was in the right in allowing the dog to chase the pigs off his land, but that the defendant had no right to allow his dog to chase the pigs beyond the fence. It appeared, he said, that they had been bitten after passing the division fence, and there was no evidence to show there was any other dog about to do it. On the counter claim he allowed the defendant $25, the estimated damage to the garden, and ordered each side to pay their own costs.

WRONGLY REPORTED "DIED OF WOUNDS"

Corporal Forester Progressing Favorably in Hospital; Was Well Known Here

Wrongly reported in the official list as "died of wounds," Corp. E. H. G. Forester is progressing favorably in a British hospital from injuries received in the great battle at Ypres. Intelligence to this effect was conveyed in cable received this morning by Graham Forester, his father, who resides at "Bowlby Place," in this city.

Corporal Forester was well-known in athletic circles in Victoria, and was a member both of the J. R. A. A. and of the Victoria Welsh rugby team. He had been on the coast for seven years prior to the outbreak of the war, coming here from South Africa. For four years he was with the Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry and joined the Seventh Battalion as a member of that unit, enlisting shortly after the outbreak of war. He was an excellent marksman and won many trophies at shooting competitions. His father and mother and four sisters reside in this city, while his mother is a member of the 88th Regiment.

Soke Waterworks.—It is expected that the water supply from Soke lake will be available in the city on June 1. The formal date of opening has not been set.

British Mail.—An Old Country mail which left England on April 28, arrived here this morning. It consists of 13 bags of letters and 10 bags of newspapers.

LOCAL UNITS STILL AWAIT INSTRUCTIONS

No Definite Date of Departure Yet Intimated; Internment of Alien Enemies

The C. M. R. and the 48th Battalion still await definite instructions from headquarters re their departure from the Willows camp. The draft of 250 which was to have gone from the latter force as reinforcements, has been cancelled, and the Battalion will now go to England, or whatever destination is intended, as an unbroken unit. As Lieut. Colonel Holmes has received instructions to be in readiness to leave at short notice, it is possible that the force will depart at any time. In the meantime the men have been doing important duty in patrolling the streets of the city for the purpose of preventing further disturbances. Owing to these it has been found necessary to curtail leave among the men of all local units to some extent, and it is hoped that conditions will soon warrant a relaxation of the picketing found necessary.

Recruits are wanted for "B" section of the Field Ammunition Corps, there being vacancies for between 20 and 30 men. Capt. Biggar is in command of this new section, recruiting for which is going on at Work Point Barracks. Following a visit of Major Ridgway, Wilson and H. H. Stevens, M. P. for Vancouver, to Vernon, arrangements are now under way there for the reception and detention of over 300 male aliens in and about the disused jail at that place, where there are now interned Germans and Austrians. Huts and sheds will be erected in the grounds about the jail for the accommodation of the additional number of prisoners.

Major-General Otter, who is in general charge of the internment camps, has suggested to the provincial authorities that the men be put to work on the projected wagon road between Monashee and Edgewood, the Dominion government to furnish rations for the men and guards if the province will pay them at the rate of twenty-five cents a day while at work. This road will provide a short route between the Okanagan and Arrow Lakes and from Monashee, which is about half-way between the two, would run down the Fire Valley to Edgewood, on Lower Arrow Lake. This is about twenty-five miles. There are a number of settlers in Fire Valley who would be benefited by the road and the outlet to transportation on the Arrow Lakes.

NEUTRALS RESENT WRECK OF LUSITANIA

Hon. Chas. A. Murdock, of San Francisco, Says Nations Must Protest

"The whole neutral world must resent such action. Such a precedent cannot be allowed to be established. But how it can be settled is difficult to determine. It would be foolish to do anything rash or inadvised, but all the neutral nations of the world will be as one in protesting against such unparalleled brutality. All have a right to the high seas, and no nation has any right to commit murder any more than individuals have a right to commit murder without being called to justice."

The Hon. Chas. A. Murdock, a member of the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco, was speaking to a Times reporter of the action of the Germans in sinking the Lusitania. It was unthinkable, he said, that neutral nations would allow such a thing to go unpunished or uncorrected.

Mr. Murdock is paying a flying visit to Victoria in the course of a tour which he is making of the Maritime provinces of the Pacific coast. Yesterday he spent in Vancouver, this being the first time he had ever put foot on British soil, despite the fact that he has been a resident of San Francisco for the past fifty years. To-night he will speak at the Victoria Unitarian church on the subject, "Conservation of Spiritual Resources." In this he will emphasize the secondary rights of materialism and militarism to consideration.

Much of the visitor's comments were devoted to his observations in Victoria and Vancouver, the wonderful beauty of both cities and their surroundings having impressed him greatly. He was particularly glad to have this opportunity for visiting Canada, he said, after seeing the magnificent exhibit which the Dominion had on view at the Panama-Pacific exposition. With hardly an exception every visitor to the fair acknowledges Canada to be the finest, most complete, and most impressive in the grounds. It is beautifully arranged and splendidly suggests the vast and boundless resources of the country. Everyone who has seen it urges visitors to see that if they have time for nothing else, as quite apart from the interest of the exhibits therein the arrangements are so highly artistic and ingenious that it places the building in very first place. Other remarkable fine exhibits are those by the Argentine, Japan, and the Philippines. France has a building, and Germany and England have exhibits. Despite the absence of separate buildings for these two great nations who are now concentrating every thought on the war, the exposition was surprising all visitors by the completeness of the exhibits.

"No one will want to visit Europe this year," said Mr. Murdock, "so we are expecting much of the American tourist travel in San Francisco instead. And many conventions and conferences are arranged, there being already no less than four hundred planned for this year. It will in itself make for a large attendance before the exposition closes. Reservations for June and July are very heavy. We feel justly proud of the undertaking, which was never expected to be a money-making scheme. Some of the mural decorations in themselves are worth going to see. It is, of course, hoped to preserve many of these after the exposition as art treasures."

Mr. Murdock, who for twenty-four years has been editor and publisher of the Pacific Unitarian, is acting in the capacity of field-secretary for the American Unitarian association, and is making a visit to the thirty odd Unitarian churches up and down the Pacific coast. Born in Massachusetts he is one of several generations of Unitarians, and has been interested in that church in San Francisco for more than fifty years. As a layman he thought he might be able to help in making the annual survey necessary before the association can make its appropriations. In the last five years, he states, the church has started more new congregations than in any previous ten years. So far as both Victoria and Vancouver are concerned he thinks conditions are very encouraging.

JAIL SENTENCES FOR HAVING STOLEN GOODS

Four Men Are Found Guilty; Citizen Fined for Obstructing Police

The city was quiet last evening although the police and military arrangements of the previous evenings were repeated and guards were kept at points where they would be available in case of any incipient trouble.

Early in the evening an alarm was raised by some people in James Bay district who saw a crowd of men moving towards the park, and the police were called out to the scene, only to find that the crowd was one composed of men of the home guard parading to Beacon Hill for drill.

This afternoon the license commissioners are meeting to consider whether the license-holders shall be asked to remain closed after to-day or not. The request for a three-day closing of all bars and a complete suspension of the sale of liquor has been locally observed by all licensees, and there has not even been any side-door sale at any of the houses. The inspectors and the commissioners are understood to be very well satisfied with the manner in which the licensees have co-operated in this emergency.

A quantity of stolen property was returned to the police yesterday and last night. Two more arrests were made by officers, one being that of a Chinese who was caught stealing from one of the wrecked buildings, and the other a foreigner who was found in possession of goods.

One of the longest sessions of police court for many months was held today, when more cases arising out of the riots were dealt with. A citizen was fined for having failed to observe the directions of a police officer during the rioting on Sunday night.

The first case taken up this morning was that of Ben Rose, who conducted a cigar stand in the Westholme hotel. He was defended by George Powell, charged to be tried in the higher court, and pleaded not guilty to a charge of being in possession of stolen property.

Detective Heather stated that he and Detective Edens visited Rose's stand on Monday night and told him they understood he had some stuff taken by the mob from stores on Saturday night. Rose said he had some things which he had picked up in the crowd that night and which he brought them to the police. He was brought them to the jewelry store run by his brother on Douglas street, where he kept his stock, and turned over four boxes of pipes, eight tins of tobacco, ten loose pipes and one tobacco pouch. Later, in a room at Rose's residence, the witness found a piece of tweed, the property of Schaper & Glass.

Detective Edens gave corroborative evidence. Charles A. Steele, an employee of Lowenberg & Co., identified the goods as similar to those kept in stock by the firm. To Mr. Powell he said Carl Lowenberg was German consul and had left the city about the first of May, as he did every few years. The witness had nothing to do with the work of the consulate.

W. W. Glass, of Schaper & Glass, identified the tweed as having been in their store before the mob wrecked it. It had come from the wholesale premises of Lenz & Leiser.

Powell's cross-examination was directed to the identity of the label on the goods and foreboded a defence that the goods had never come from the Schaper & Glass store. The accused was committed for trial. Sam, a Chinese, was arrested last evening by Special Constable John Etcher, and to-day was charged with stealing a sweater from the premises of Lenz & Leiser. The prisoner was standing in Commercial alley, close to one of the boarded-up windows of the warehouse, and when he saw the officer coming he whipped the sweater under his coat.

Moses Lenz identified the firm's private mark on the tag. A sentence of two months in jail was imposed.

William Costifas, on remand from Monday on a charge of being in possession of a bolt of cloth stolen from the store of Schaper & Glass. The cloth was found in a drawer in the kitchen of the Maryland cafe, where the man works, by Detective Siciliano.

Detective-Sergeant O'Leary had a talk with Costifas in hospital on Monday morning, when the prisoner claimed that the cloth was his, and that he had found it. Costifas had his arm bandaged where it appeared to have been cut. There was blood on the cloth and the tag.

Mr. Glass testified to the goods belonging to his firm. It bore a tag with the firm name on it and his own writing. This was one of the pieces of cloth that had been in the window before the mob broke in.

The accused, who was born in Connecticut, was very indignant at the suggestion that he was a Turk, admitted that he had got the cut on his arm by breaking the Schaper & Glass window. He was sentenced to two months imprisonment.

John Pasto was charged with having in his possession socks belonging to Lenz & Leiser, and pipes belonging to Lowenberg & Co., and these goods were identified by Moses Lenz and C. A. Steele. The man's story was that he picked the things up on Store street. He was sent to jail for two months at hard labor.

George Oconom was interviewed in his home at 575 Yates street, used as a club premises, by Detective Heather and Detective Siciliano. He was unable to consider the evidence in the case of A. B. Chilton and H. A. Nuttall, charged with interfering with the course of justice. He will endeavor to give judgment to-morrow.

SUCCESS AT LAST WITH VACANT LOTS

Nearly One Hundred Lots Are Under Cultivation Through Affiliated Friendly Societies

Splendid work has been done by the Affiliated Friendly Societies' association in the way of encouraging the cultivation of the vacant property around the city.

A civic party, conducted by Thomas Walker, was taken round the five areas secured this morning.

It was composed of Mayor Stewart, Aldermen Porter, Todd, McCandless, Sargent, and McKelving, and the first call was made at the property near the Royal Athletic park, on Cook street, formerly the old Jay nursery, which has been placed at the disposal of the committee by A. P. Luxton, K.C. Here there are 25 lots which have all been cultivated.

The next place inspected was the area near Haultain street belonging to the B. C. Electric railway, where there are twenty lots under cultivation in somewhat difficult soil. The allotments here showed some irrigation requirements, a few of the holders having their plantations well forward, and all were remarkably free from weeds.

At this point opportunity was taken to see the paving work in progress on Empress avenue, and then the dozen lots on Blackwood street belonging to the committee were inspected. Here, respectively to Colonel E. G. Prior and Frank Burrell, were inspected, the character of the cultivation not being so advanced at this point. The cars were then directed to the provincial government property, where the old jail stood, and here the principal stay was made. There are 34 lots under cultivation at this point, most of them on the easterly slope to Quadra street. The gardens look in good condition, and free from weeds. Some of the lots on the westerly portion of the estate have only just come into the possession of the committee, and thus were scarcely ready for inspection. The members of the party congratulated Mr. Walker on the success of the project, and he in turn thanked them for showing an interest in the objects of the association.

A most cordial spirit prevailed throughout the trip, which was enhanced by the wit and humor of Aldermen McKelving, and the healthy rivalry between the city fathers to destroy the largest nest of tent caterpillars as an object lesson to the good citizens. They found rose bushes, willows, and also the trees in the old jail orchard infested with the pest, and recognized the extreme difficulties of eradicating the evil.

With Mr. Walker is associated George W. Allison, as the committee in charge of the vacant lots.

FIRST MID-WEEK MARKET DAY TO-DAY

Small Attendance Will Be Improved With Public Knowledge of Change

The results of the first mid-week market to-day were only relatively successful. The fact that the season is still somewhat early for fresh produce may have something to do with its failure to come up to expectations.

The public, however, have not yet accustomed themselves to the change of dates, and the shortage in the attendance was disappointing to those who desired to sell the produce, however, not reaching the dimensions usually noticed at the Friday market.

With the early strawberries expected in another two weeks at what might be termed normal prices, there will be a great improvement shown. Some strawberries were on sale to-day, but in limited quantities.

New potatoes are also reaching the market in small numbers. Not only the supplies but the number of customers are expected to increase greatly when the next mid-week market is held.

The next market day will be held on Saturday, this being at the request of the fruitgrowers. A plentiful supply of pot plants were on sale and were selling rapidly while shrubs and cut flowers were also heavy sellers. Meat and fowl did not sell as well, but fish went excellently. Spring vegetables had a fair number of purchasers. Cabbage was in demand, while lettuce, onions and chutney also sold well. Seed keepers are not at all discouraged over the scant attendance this morning.

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN BEING INAUGURATED

Meeting This Afternoon to Make Arrangements for Work

The clean-up movement will be inaugurated in Victoria at a meeting being held this afternoon in the offices of the Victoria and Island Development association, Bastion street. This movement will be participated in by representatives of several civic organizations, and is expected to result in a considerable improvement in the appearance of a city which is admitted by all visitors to be the cleanest community they see in their travels.

Both business and residential sections are included in the movement, and a concerted effort will be made to have every part of the city cleaned up, premises put into a presentable shape, lawns and gardens kept trim and neat, places like the burned area cleaned, weeds cut and a general tidying-up done all over Greater Victoria.

While in the south Commissioner Cuthbert found that the coast cities have all awakened to a realization of the value of a tidy and clean city as an asset when the eyes of thousands of visitors are on it, as well as the benefit it is to the health and self-respect of the community. In San Francisco, Portland and Seattle the movement is in full swing just now, and every citizen is entering into the spirit of it. Business men's and women's organizations are interesting themselves in the work and are turning out in large numbers to take a hand in the work.

At the meeting this afternoon the work of cleaning up their premises volunteers are ready to do it for them, and a wonderful change has been wrought in some parts of the fair city and also in Portland.

W. C. T. U.—All members of the central union are earnestly requested to attend the last business meeting before the annual meeting, which will be held on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. restaurant. The treasurer will be pleased to receive all dues.

of Session

A further upturn of four dollars a share in Granby was the order of session this morning. This was no local manipulation, but the result of emphatic purchases of the issue in central markets. Corotation retraced its advance of prior to Tuesday's downturn. Not only was the loss made up in this stock, but a higher level was created. Offers were at nine cents as before.

Glacier Creek still was in demand and buying power was again absent for Portland Canal. As yet the price of Red Cliff, a property belonging to this group, has not responded to reported resumption of work at the camp.

BIG WIRE HOUSES WERE EARLY WHEAT BUYERS

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
Chicago, May 12.—A group of big wire houses were early buyers of wheat. The market was advanced one cent on such support, further reports of damage to the growing crop being the chief influence.

It became an over-bought trade soon after the opening, for the price then represented a rise of eleven cents in two days.

Selling developed of both a realizing and bear character, and this served to depress levels rather conspicuously. There was renewed support on soft spots, so that last figures are only one-half off from last night.

AMERICANS IN PARIS
STATE THEIR VIEWS

Declare Sinking of Lusitania Was an Act of Unparalleled Savagery

Paris, May 12.—More than 100 Americans in Paris signed the following cablegram, which has been forwarded to President Wilson:

"We, the undersigned, having observed strict neutrality though living amid the horrors of war, now feel that in justice to our condition and in order to preserve our self-respect we must voice an indignant and energetic protest against the sinking of the Lusitania, an act pre-eminent in its savagery and one which places the responsible government outside of civilized humanity."

Among the signers of the message are Dr. Edmund L. Gros, chief surgeon of the American ambulance corps in France, and A. Platt Andrews, former assistant secretary of the United States treasury.

TO-DAY'S TRADING ON THE WINNIPEG MARKET

Winnipeg, May 12.—Winnipeg wheat futures opened 1/2 to 1/4 higher, oats 1/4 to 1/2 higher and flax 1/4 to 1/2 higher for July and October. Early in the day prices sagged to under yesterday's close. The trading in futures was fair and exporters were busy. Some light contracts for export were consummated over night. In the cash trade there was a fair inquiry for No. 3 and 4 grades of wheat for the Ontario trade. All grades of oats, excepting No. 2, were wanted, and in barley the grades were being asked for. Flax was dull. Offerings of wheat, oats and barley were very light and not sufficient to supply requirements.

Reduction in Saanich Standard Rate of Wages Will Be Offset by Company's Offer

The Saanich council last evening, after hearing from B. D. White, manager of the Western Dominion Lands & Investment Company, who stated he was able to make what he believed would be a satisfactory bid for the Saanich paving debentures, decided to invite tenders from the brokers with whom the council has been in negotiation. These must be in by Friday at 6 p.m.

The expected has happened in connection with the standard rate of wages to be paid on the contract, and the rate will fall from $2.75 to $2.25, subject to certain concessions by the contractors.

BOMBARDIER RIVERS KILLED IN BELGIUM

Was Native Son of Victoria and Former Member of Fifth Regiment

Yet another native son has fallen while fighting for the empire in Belgium. The sad news was received last evening of the death of Bombardier Percy John Rivers, of the 2nd Battery, 1st Brigade, C. F. A. Had he lived Bdr. Rivers would have been 21 years old to-day, and all of his life up to last August was spent in this city.

The dead soldier has two brothers now awaiting orders to go to the front. His parents who survive him live at 749 Market street, while one sister, Mrs. Thos. Nute, also lives in the city. The late Bdr. Rivers attended the North Ward school during his boyhood and afterwards was employed as a machinist at the Victoria Machinery depot for four years. He was in Nanaimo during the strike, and on the outbreak of the war was among the very first to offer his services to the cause to which he has now offered the supreme sacrifice. He was a member of No. 3 Company, 5th Regiment, under Major Harris.

Of an extremely cheery and hearty disposition he was extremely popular with the young men of the city, and the letters which have been received by his family while he has been in the fighting line show the same qualities even under those trying circumstances. The last letter which came from him, which arrived here only a few days ago, was more than ordinarily cheerful. In it he said that he would never be taken prisoner by the Germans, as he had heard so much of the manner in which they treated British captives. He also mentioned with great pride the shelling by his battery of a farm house full of German snipers, and recounted the joy they felt when the house came tumbling to the ground. He told also of the wounding of Gnr. Thunder, whom he personally knew, and who, he said, had lost the sight of one eye by standing too near to watch the effect of German shell fire upon an adjacent building.

A very wide circle of friends will mourn the loss of the young bombardier, and will extend a full measure of sympathy to his sorrowing relatives.

EXPEDITIONARY FORCE SUFFERS HEAVY LOSS

Total Casualty List to Date is
2,754; Officers and Men
Killed, 438

Very heavy losses have been sustained by the Canadian expeditionary force up to date, the total number of officers and non-commissioned officers and men killed being 438, and of officers and non-commissioned officers and men wounded 2,316. This amounts to 2,754 in the casualty lists up to the present. Of the 438 who have lost their lives in the war it is somewhat surprising to learn that 115 succumbed to disease, this being more than twenty-five per cent.

Although the 6th, 9th, 48th and 12th Battalions escaped with a remarkably light casualty list, this is more than offset by the deplorable loss of life in the 14th (with 41 killed), the 13th (39), the 1st (28), the 10th (26), the 8th (25), the 15th (22), and others. The Princess Patricia's suffered very badly, losing fifty-two officers and men, with 188 wounded. The 10th Battalion lost more officers than any of the other units, no less than eleven sacrificing their lives, while the battalion to suffer most heavily in killed and wounded of all ranks was the 1st, with a total of 395.

The following is an official statement showing the exact casualties in the Canadian expeditionary force:

EARLY SWEET PEAS.

Saanich Resident Has Had First of Sweet Peas in Garden For Some Weeks.

Another proof of the mildness of the Victoria climate and the productivity of its gardens is offered in the fact that the date at which sweet pea blossoms in some parts of the district.

In the garden of Trevor T. Preece, Swan street, Saanich, there has been a wealth of blossoms of that fragrant flower for some weeks past, and the vines are now a sight worth going a long way to see. The coloring and form of the blossoms are exquisite, and the air for a wide space about is perfumed with them.

This flower is one of those for which Victoria has always been noted, and nearly every garden has it, but it is rare that it comes to blossom quite so early as those at Mr. Preece's home.

MACHINERY VERSUS HAND LABOR ON WORK

Warm Discussion Takes Place
at Saanich Council Concerning Waterworks Contract

A very warm discussion took place in the Saanich council last evening, following a request for a direction from the council as to the hiring of a trench-digging machine for the waterworks, which was made by the municipal engineer (Mr. Johnston).

Mr. Johnston had previously reported that the waterworks from Scotland is loaded on the two boats of the Harrison Direct Line, Student and Director, which will berth at Victoria during June. He indicated that he would start a gang at work prior to the arrival of the first boat, and therefore expected to have operations commenced by June 1.

The council let a contract to Evans, Coleman & Evans for pig-lead for the waterworks at $106 a ton, the other bidders, British Columbia Waterworks supplies Co., F. Griffen Co., Vancouver, and A. J. Forsyth & Co., being higher. The lead purchased will come from the Trail smelter, and as the price is rapidly rising on account of the war, it was felt desirable to close the deal. Sixty tons is wanted, and an immediate order for twenty was authorized.

The engineer suggested that instead of hiring the trenching machine, which it was stated had been used at Saskatoon, a test should be made by letting a contract for a section of the work to the owner, and having another section done by day labor. Thereby, he thought, a fair test could be made.

Councillor Jones strongly opposed the idea. "Let us give the men of Saanich an opportunity to get bread and boots for their children; they want it badly enough without bringing machinery in here to take up the work."

The Engineer: There will be plenty of work for men, apart from the trenching machine. It will only work in earth. It is my duty to recommend the cheapest way to the council to do the work, and I have a quotation of 12 1/2 cents a foot for earth excavation.

Councillor Adams: Does Councillor Jones want this work to be done as a relief measure? We owe a duty to the ratepayers who have to pay for the work, and this municipal work is no panacea for the evils of unemployment. It can only give temporary relief, and then the situation gets as bad as ever.

Councillor O'Connell explained: how the waterworks appropriation would be expended, and estimated only $50,000 would be actually spent in taking out the earth excavation from the trenches. "Allowing one-third," he said, "for rock, and how much is left for the machine? You might just as well get Chinamen to build the waterworks if cheapness is the only necessity. Is it not better to spread the money over a term, instead of having the work rushed by machine labor, and then have men besieging the hall for bread? I think the proposal to engage machinery at this time is unparliamentary."

Councillor Adams stated he had not declared in favor of the use of machinery, but against the work being done as one of relief.

Councillor Jones: Who are the people to pay these taxes? They are not all millionaires in Saanich, and the people would sooner pay a little extra for their water, if work is to be found at this time.

Councillor Grant supported machinery

This School Girl Had Bad Fainting Spells

Was Weak and Run Down, but Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Made Complete Cure

The most critical time in a girl's life comes during the school age, when she is impelled by rivalry to put forth her best efforts in studying, her social relations. At the time she should have healthful outdoor exercise and abundance of fresh air, to keep the blood pure and rich, she is confined by her studies. Is it any wonder that she becomes run down in health and suffers from headaches, indigestion, loss of appetite and spells of weakness or fainting?

The case described in this letter is a good illustration, and you can read here the splendid results of using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to help through this critical period.

Mrs. H. Houston, Highland Grove, Ont., writes:

"While attending school my daughter became weak and very much run down. She was frequently troubled with bad fainting spells, and nothing we tried seemed to do her any good. We were advised to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and did so with most satisfactory results. I am pleased to tell you that after using five boxes of the Nerve Food, my daughter's health is restored, and she has no return of the fainting spells."

In economical handling of material. "Is it not better," he asked, "to have the work done one-third as cheaply by machine, and have three times as much money to spend?"

Councillor Borden regretted that the question should arise at a time when labor conditions are so strained. "If the machine is introduced," he stated, "it will lead to a great deal of strife and criticism. The labor men have made up their minds, and they will not change."

Councillor Tanner: In municipal work we are constantly finding that we are compelled to handle the employment question to the detriment of the ratepayers, because of the clashing of various interests.

In answer to a question Mr. Johnston stated that as against the quotation of 12 1/2 cents for the trenching machine, it would cost 60 cents by day labor.

As no councillor would submit a motion on the matter, the reeve suggested the subject should be taken up again in the works committee.
